Safety Instruction Guide for TACTICAL RETENTION LANYARD, BLACK

Introduction

Thank you for choosing the TACTICAL RETENTION LANYARD, BLACK. This guide provides essential safety instructions to ensure the safe use of this product. Please read this document carefully to understand how to use the lanyard correctly and safely.

General Safety Guidelines

- Always inspect the lanyard before each use for any signs of wear or damage.
- Ensure that the lanyard is securely attached to both your weapon and your body.
- Do not exceed the breaking strength of approximately 85 pounds to avoid injury.
- Keep the lanyard away from children and vulnerable individuals.
- Use the lanyard only for its intended purpose; do not use it for climbing or other activities not specified.
- Report any unsafe conditions or product issues to the appropriate authorities.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Ensure that the belt loop is fully adjusted to fit your body securely before use.
- Always use the side release buckle properly to avoid accidental release.
- When attaching the lanyard to your weapon, ensure that it is connected to the designated lanyard loop.
- Avoid using the lanyard in environments where it may become entangled with other equipment or hazards.
- Regularly check the connection points for any signs of wear or damage.
- If the lanyard becomes damaged or shows signs of wear, discontinue use immediately.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Adjusting the Belt Loop

- Locate the adjustable belt loop on the lanyard.
- Slide the loop to fit securely around your belt or waistband.
- Ensure it is snug but comfortable for your body type.

2. Attaching the Lanyard to Your Weapon

- Identify the lanyard loop on your sidearm, including the small loop in SIG weapons.
- Thread the lanyard's attachment point through the loop on your weapon.
- Pull the lanyard to ensure it is securely fastened.

3. Using the Side Release Buckle

- To attach, press the buckle until you hear a click.
- To release, squeeze the sides of the buckle with one hand and pull apart.

4. Extending and Coiling the Lanyard

- The lanyard can be extended to a length of 55 inches (140 cm).
- For coiling, gently pull the lanyard to its coiled length of 22 inches (56 cm) when not in use.

5. Using the Lanyard with Other Devices

- The lanyard can also be used with radios, handheld power tools, cameras, etc.
- Ensure that the attachment points for these devices are secure and compatible with the lanyard.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of the lanyard in accordance with local regulations.
- If the lanyard is damaged or no longer needed, consider recycling materials where possible.
- Do not dispose of the lanyard in regular household waste if it can be recycled.
