A Stylish Pair of Shades With Built-In Ballistic Protection

Magpul entered the sunglasses market with a few solid options a while back, and the company continues to enhance its line of eye protection with the launch of the Explorer XL sunglasses. Optimized for wearing on medium- and large-sized faces or for people who prefer larger frames, the Magpul Explorer XL line is a must-have for outdoor enthusiasts. Not only will the Explorer XL line protect your eyes from UV radiation, the sunglasses are also constructed from injection-molded TR90NZZ polymer, which provides incredible impact resistance. These shades have been tested to MIL-PRF 32432 standards and passed with flying colors. Both polarized and non-polarized lenses are available, and the glasses are complete with anti-slip nose and temple pads.
