

TIKKA T3 PRECISION RIFLE STOCKS W/ MAGAZINE - Tikka T3 Prec Rifle Stock Desert Tan Poly w/10Rd TypeB Mag

A Dedicated Archangel Stock Designed for Your Tikka T3 Rifle Receiver

The Tikka T3 has gained recognition as a highly capable precision platform, but there haven't been many options in the aftermarket that allow shooters to customize this long-range rifle. The Archangel AAT3 Stock is a purpose-built option that allows owners of long-action T3s to customize their rifles with ease. The Pro Mag Archangel AAT3 Stock is constructed from a combination of high-strength carbon fiber paired with glass-reinforced polymer. The stock is outfitted with a near-vertical grip complete with palm swells, as well as a locking storage compartment. The forend is outfitted with M-LOK accessory points located at 3-, 6- and 9 o'clock, enabling owners to outfit their gun with the accessories needed for a solid shooting platform. The stock also features a click-adjustable cheek riser, as well as a hooked butt that allows users to place their support hand for added stabilization. Each Pro Mag Archangel AAT3 Stock is designed to accept detachable magazines, and a single Type B Archangel polymer magazine is included with the gun. The magazine holds 7 rounds of any cartridge based on the .30-06 Springfield. Also included on the stock is a click-adjustable length-of-pull, and three flush-fit hard points allow users to mount detachable sling swivels. The stock features an all-black or desert-tan finish and weighs in at 3.4 pounds. This stock will not fit T3x rifle models.
