Enhanced High-Capacity Magazines for Your Favorite 1911

Wilson Combat has been renowned for its offering of high-quality 1911 magazines that enhance performance and reliability in a wide range of 1911 pistols on the market. With the introduction of the Wilson Combat 47 Series Full-Size 10-Round Magazine, 1911 owners now have an option that's even more improved than the original. The Wilson Combat 47 Series Full-Size 10-Round Magazine underwent a dramatic redesign, which works to improve the company's aftermarket offerings to 1911 enthusiasts. The biggest change is the addition of an extended base pad made from polymer, removing the need for an over-insertion tab found on the company's original magazines. Caliber: .45 ACP Magazine-body walls made from stainless steel measuring .027-inch thick Available in black or stainless-steel finish The 47 Series Full-Size 10-Round Magazine also incorporates a self-lubricating Nylon ETM follower and high-quality springs made from stainless steel to ensure that users receive reliable operation during a long service life.
